THE ROLE OF TECHNOLOGY

- Compliance not just about a software or hardware fix
- Technical fixes should be investigated after completing an assessment of your business processes under the spotlight of GDPR
- Technical fixes should be considered part of your GDPR compliance programme, not a quick route to compliance
- Beware of scaremongering

THE NO-BRAINER STUFF

GATEWAY PROTECTION

- A suitable business-grade firewall
- UTM / Advanced threat protection subscriptions for your firewall
- A process in place for firewall change requests, and regular reviews
- Computercentric can offer a fully managed firewall service for £49
  - Change management & approval process with auditing
  - Access control management and auditing
  - Quarterly reporting on firewall rules and amendments, and their justification
  - Firewall log monitoring and response
  - Monthly firewall patching and updating

ENDPOINT PROTECTION

- Business-grade Anti-Virus system, not equivalent to free or home-user products
- Sophos AV from £26.75 / device / year
- Consider options for additional Endpoint Threat Protection
  - Sophos Intercept-X, from £36.11 / device / year, in addition to a normal AV subscription (any, not just Sophos)
- Education of staff about risks is highly effective, and free. People are coming up with smarter ways to trick you into clicking a link, or opening a file, but the consequence can be catastrophic

USER EDUCATION

Scomputercentric

THE NO-BRAINER STUFF

BACKUP AND DISASTER RECOVERY

- GDPR review is a good opportunity to review your Disaster Recovery plans
- Identify risks, develop a coping strategy for massive data loss through theft, fire or flood.
- DR plan should have provisions for recovery of data and replacement of hardware

THE BEST THINGS IN LIFE ARE FREE

- Enforce password policies
- Data access who can access what? Review and take action
- Who is authorised to instruct your IT provider?
- Educate staff
- (Almost free) Ensure your website has a clear and concise privacy policy

WEBSITES AND ONLINE MARKETING

THE COOKIE MONSTER

- Cookies are an important part of your website, GDPR changes how they can be used
- No longer acceptable to have a "this site uses cookies" banner
- Consent must be sought, otherwise cookies must be blocked, and consent expires after 12 months. Consent should be recorded!
- Users should be able to change their cookie settings at any time. See www.computercentric.co.uk for example
- https://www.cookielaw.org
- https://www.cookiebot.com/

EMAIL MARKETING

- GDPR is a game changer for anyone who uses email for marketing
- Not just GDPR in effect, also consider the existing PECR (Privacy and Electronic Communications Regulations)
- It's all about the consent, most of the time...
  - Consent should be explicitly obtained, not assumed
  - Consent should be able to be withdrawn easily
  - Consent should obtained for the purpose it will be used for
  - Consent should be recorded
    - Date & time?
    - Who?
    - What did they agree to?
    - How was the consent question worded?
- There is an alternative justification for bulk emailing legitimate interest
- More bad news your existing contacts probably didn't consent

EMAIL MARKETING – 5 QUICK TIPS

Tip#2 – Separate your opt-in consent, and be proud about it

EMAIL MARKETING - 5 QUICK TIPS

Tip#3 – Make it easy for people to change their mind

- Every email communication should include an option to allow the user to unsubscribe, or change their marketing preferences
- Hopefully, most businesses already doing this

You're receiving this email because you've signed up to receive updates from Litmus. If you'd prefer not to receive updates, you can manage your preferences or unsubscribe from all.

EMAIL MARKETING - 5 QUICK TIPS

Tip#4 – Record the consent

- Who consented?
- When did they consent?
- What were they told at the time?
- How did they consent? Was it a web form, a Facebook form, at checkout?
- Have they since revoked consent?
- Email marketing platforms are starting to get wise to this, and we expect proper "consent management" to become standard
- In the meantime, use email "double opt-in", which generates an email, some systems allow you to get a copy of this email which you can store as your consent record

EMAIL MARKETING – 5 QUICK TIPS

Tip#5 – Audit and clean up your lists

- GDPR affects all marketing, even to people already on your lists
- Audit your lists, who signed up using GDPR compliant process? (Probably no-one).
- Implement an "opt-in" campaign before the GDPR deadline, to secure your lists
- Your GDPR compliant email database will be more focused, a lot smaller, but compliant

EMAIL MARKETING – THE SOLUTION

Option 2 – The Wetherspoons approach...

Dear Customer

I'm writing to inform you that we will no longer be sending our monthly customer newsletters by e-mail.

Many companies use e-mail to promote themselves, but we don't want to take this approach – which many consider intrusive.

Our database of customers' e-mail addresses, including yours, will be securely deleted.

In future, rather than e-mailing our newsletters, we will continue to release news stories on our website. Idwetherspoon.com

You can also keep up to date by following our Facebook and Twitter pages, using the links below.

Thank you for your custom - and we hope to see you soon in a Wetherspoon pub.

Many thanks

John Hutson

PROTECTING YOUR DATA

WHEREVER IT MAY BE

- Different approaches for data "AT REST" and "IN TRANSIT"
- "At rest" data
  - On your server
  - In a Sharepoint or other cloud repository
  - In your email inbox, or your phone, laptop or desktop
  - On a USB stick

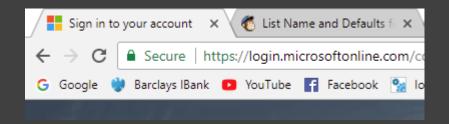

• In a filing cabinet

PROTECTING YOUR DATA

WHEREVER IT MAY BE

- "In transit" data
  - Being uploaded to a web site or Cloud storage

• Being sent over email to an external user... risky.

Instead,

- 1. Consider sharing the data via a custom-built portal
- 2. Consider sharing the data using Office 365 Sharepoint
- 3. Consider email encryption

END-TO-END EMAIL ENCRYPTION

- You can manually encrypt a file containing sensitive information, and email it
- However this is arduous, and requires encryption standards and software have already been agreed with the recipient
- Options are available for seamless, almost invisible encryption of email (and all other data on your network)
- Sophos Safeguard
- Azure Rights Management

CLEANING YOUR DATA

AND KEEPING IT CLEAN AND COMPLIANT

- GDPR requires that you don't keep data unnecessarily!
- Computercentric can offer a data cleansing service for any system we can "get at" the data
- If you use a bespoke solution built by Computercentric, consider asking us to add a data cleansing / anonymisation function to make your life easier

NEXT MOVES

TIME TO DO SOME HOMEWORK

- Computercentric can't advise you on what you should do!
- Experts are available to advise, or completely manage your compliance work
- GDPR is not just a one-off thing you can complete, it requires regular reviews, auditing of processes, and above all, documentation of what you did...
- Show your workings.... If you ever get pulled up on a GDPR compliance issue, having all your efforts and research documented is a step in the right direction
- Vultures will be hovering...
